Where the data comes from:

The report will search for any requirement that had a requirement status date during the time period that matches the requirement type and code that was selected when you ran the report, or that matches the “requirementType” setting in the report.

Column 1 reports each requirement type and code found including those that were open during the time of the report.

Column 2 Total Served will report of those that had a status that was not considered “still open” in the Table: Requirement Status \(REQUIRESTATUS\).

Column 3 Total Completions will report all the requirements that had a requirement status with a status date during the time period.

Column 4 Successful will report those requirements that had a status that was considered “successful” in the Table: Requirement Status \(REQUIRESTATUS\).

Column 5 Unsuccessful will report those requirements that had a status that was not considered “successful” in the Table: Requirement Status \(REQUIRESTATUS\).

Column 6 Unsuccessful will report those requirements that had a status that matches the “otherDisp” setting. Meaning it is not considered successful or unsuccessful. An example of this might be “closed due to death” or something like that.

Column 6 Other is calculated by taking the number of successful divided by the total completions.
