Detention school attendance

Report Description:

This report was created so those detention centers with schools could have a designated area to make notes about school attendance while in detention. This report will give a count of the residents in each location with notes on that date. It will break the students down by school district

Where the data comes from:

The report will count the number of notes made during an open facility stay for each person with notes. The notes types can be set up in the table: Entry type for identity notes. There can be different types of notes to indicate whatever you wish to see. For example, Attended School vs. Did not attend school. If you made a note every day on every resident you could get stats.
